Road supervisor quits; grand jury probe to be asked by D.A.

County Road Supt. Joe B. West resigned under pressure Tuesday morning and Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod said the grand jury will be asked to hear evidence against him.

Sherrod said the grand jury, which meets June 8, will be asked to investigate the "possible misappropriation of county property and possibly county services."

He had no further comment on the surprise development.

West, road superintendent for the county since 1972, had just returned from a week's vacation in Central Texas over the weekend.

County commissioners, who had met in executive session Monday afternoon, met again Tuesday morning and hurried through an agenda to go into another closed-door meeting.

They were joined in the executive session by Sherrod and Assistant Dist. Atty. Rick Wilcox. The session lasted only about 15 minutes.

When the session ended, West was escorted from the courthouse by Chief Deputy Sheriff Reil Johnson and Sherrod and Wilcox returned to their offices.

County Judge Woody Pond announced in open session following the closed meeting that the court had received a letter of resignation from West effective Tuesday.

Pond said following the meeting, though, that the commissioners "gave him the opportunity to resign."

West could not be reached for comment Tuesday.

Commissioners would not comment on the situation. Nor would Pond comment further.

West had been a heavy equipment salesman before joining the county as head of the road department in 1972. He was the third road superintendent hired by the county commissioners since they unitized the road department in the late 1960s.

Commissioners Monday held a brief executive session following a meeting during which Commissioners Dee Griffin advocated taking court action to force the state legislature to hike the statutory fees which county officials may charge for performing services in their offices.

Griffin said the fees of office now charged for services does not cover the cost of providing those services.

The ad valorem tax, he said, is bearing too much of the burden for providing county services.

Initially, he advocated that the commissioners mandate certain fees of office be charged by the county clerk, district clerk, tax collector, justices of the peace, sheriff and county judge.

But, County Clerk LeRoy Hutson said such action would leave him liable to a civil suit.

"If we can't get them (legislators) to act, maybe we should act through the courts," he suggested. "We can't perform services at half-price."

Commissioner Paul Lindsey agreed that the real property tax "is just about at the saturation point as such."

"We need some finances from other methods of income," he said. "We have to find some way to try and keep the whole governmental structure."

State Rep. Bob Simpson and State Sen. Max Sherman will be invited to meet with commissioners concerning a hike in fees at the next regular commission meeting in June.

Rain-burdened skies were courteous enough to wait until the Canyon Eagles had beaten Pecos 3-1 Tuesday in a bi-district championship game here before unleashing nearly a half-inch of moisture on the city, the second major rain in the day. Hail pummelled the area earlier Tuesday. Through the day, Canyon received more than an inch of rain.

Inch of rain and hail help, hurt county area

Intermittent rains Tuesday brought mixed blessings for Randall County farmers, many of whom have already abandoned their 1976 wheat crops.

Thunderstorms moved into the Canyon area about 3 a.m. Tuesday, bringing not only moisture but a heavy hail storm, the first of the season for the city.

Moisture from the early Tuesday storm was general over the county with as much as an inch of rain reported.

Hail damage was light in the city.

A second storm system Tuesday afternoon failed to dampen a Canyon bi-district high school baseball win over Pecos and was also devoid of hail.

County Agent John Brazzil said Tuesday the early morning rains seemed general over the county but the hail was apparently localized over Canyon and areas to the southwest of Canyon.

The hail was heaviest in the city in southwestern portions.

Reil Johnson of Chaparral Mobile Home Park reported windows and sky-lights were broken in trailers in the park by the hail.

Gardens throughout the city were damaged by the storm.

Hail broke car windshields in some areas.

Louis Raef of Umbarger said only light hail was reported in the western portions of the county. He reported about .13 of an inch of rain from the early morning storm.

Canyon received an official .81 of an inch of rain from the early rain, and .35 of an inch from afternoon showers Tuesday.

Brazzil said the rains will provide planting moisture for farmers to plant dryland sorghum crops this summer.

That's good news in an agricultural year shadowed by drought.

About half the 1976 Randall County wheat crop has been appraised so far for federal disaster payments.

Pat Maynard of the Randall County Agriculture Soil Conservation and Stabilization Service said more than 60 per cent of the farms in the county have requested his office survey a portion of their wheat crop for the disaster payments.

"I'd say we've looked at 50 per cent of the wheat in the county so far," Maynard said.

He said appraisals have been requested by 520 of the 825 wheat (See RAIN, Page 5)

During school finance hearings here

Heatly clashes with teacher spokesman

A proposal for strengthening ad valorem tax collection methods in the state was ripped up along with the Amarillo Classroom Teachers Association representative who presented it Monday to a legislative panel here.

Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah, a veteran legislator who at one time held a powerful appropriations seat in the House, took the microphone during the morning hearings here to attack the proposal of ACTA as presented by Louise Daniel who said she represented the group.

The exchange between Heatly, a confirmed advocate of agricultural interests, and Ms. Daniel was the highlight of a three-hour session held by the special House Committee on Alternatives to School Financing on the West Texas State University campus.

More than a dozen farmers, school superintendents and county judges gave sworn testimony before the five committee members attending the hearings.

But Ms. Daniels got the most vehement response to printed suggestions given the panel that the collection system for ad valorem taxation be strengthened by establishing uniform evaluations, requiring bi-annual revaluations, and establishing 20 regional state comptroller's offices to oversee the tax collection efforts.

Her proposal included a provision that the current limit on the amount of rate which can be charged against local property by hiked from $1.50 per $100 to $2 per $100.

"You make no mention of personal property," Heatly intoned following Ms. Daniel's presentation.

453 ballots for and 152 against. Total vote in the Tuesday balloting was 2029.

The Tuesday vote passed despite a last-ditch effort by a group centered in Estacado Estates to defeat the bond issue proposal.

Formal opposition in Canyon melted two weeks ago when Stan Collins, leader of opposition in the December and February elections, announced his support of the $2.9 million issue.

Only about a fourth of the eligible voters turned out for the election Tuesday.

Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling announced the results of the election during a special meeting Tuesday night.

"Doesn't somebody want to say 'yah?' " he asked. Applause from a small audience met his question.

"Amen," intoned Supt. Jerry Jacobs.

The board stood firmly on a decision made two weeks ago to build a new elementary school on a site at Sundown and Western.

Jacobs read a letter Tuesday night from Gulf Republic Corporation offering a tract of land in Estacado Estates for the school.

But, Jacobs recommended the board stick with the Sundown-Western site, noting that Admin. Asst. W.V. McAlpin had studied seven sites including the Estacado Estates tract before recommending the Sundown-Western site earlier this month.

Financial Advisor Bob Davis of Underwood, Neuhaus Co. of Amarillo told the board it would be early July before bonds could be sold.

Jacobs said bids couldn't be accepted before August or September for construction of the elementary school and that construction on remodeling and additions at Canyon High School would be delayed with remodeling not coming probably until the summer of 1977.

The new elementary school, which is to cost about $1.3 million, will accommodate 600 students.

High school additions, totaling $1.6 million, will accommodate about 300 more students.

A last-ditch effort to defeat the Tuesday bond issue proposal was made last weekend by a Committee for Fair Taxation, which ran several advertisements in both the Canyon News and the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe.

Tom Keen, listed as treasurer of the committee in the ads, denied Monday he is connected in any way with the Gulf Republic Corporation or that his committee has accepted money from the corporation to fight the bond issue.

Keen lives in Estacado Estates and admitted that, as a real estate dealer, he has sold homes in the subdivision, which is in the north part of the district.

Keen said the thrust of his campaign against the bond issue was because of the site chosen for the (See VOTERS, Page 5)

Girls tops in CHS senior class

Girls have nailed down the top academic positions this year for the class of '76.

Sheryl Dees and Marcella Patterson earned valedictorian and salutatorian honors and behind them is a solid lineup of girls.

Paul Kerr heads the list for male graduates and he is ranked No. 12 on the academic scale.

Ahead of him, in addition to Miss Dees and Miss Patterson are Retta Cunningham, Teresa Reid, Patty Crowley, Lisa Tucker, Janet Malzahn, Jo White, Kimberly Howell, Kathy Cantrell and Louanne Irwin.

In the last 10 years, girls have edged out boys for top honors. From the class of '66 to the class of '76, there have been a dozen female honor graduates, compared to ten male honor graduates.

However, boys have a slight edge in grade point averages. Last year's valedictorian, Russell Killingsworth, has the highest grade average in the decade with a 98.4. Miss Dees is close behind him with a 98.2.

Honor graduates in the past ten years include Tom Crown, salutatorian and Irene Mitchell, top girl graduate in '75; Sheila Thompson and Mary Townsend in '74; Teresa Engler and Sharon Lumry in '73; Mike Downing and Tom Oppe in '72.

Bob Bullock was salutatorian in '71. No information was available on the valedictorian for that year.

In '70 the honor graduates were John Stephen Huntington and Evelyn Mae Friemel. Billie Helene Hill was valedictorian in '69 and Judy Sykes and Shelly Brillhart were co-salutatorians that year.

In '68, Robert Olsen was valedictorian and Mary Mitchell and Bea Thompson shared salutatorian honors. Alan Demus and Chris Kuykendall were honor graduates in '67.

Poff explains LaGrone sentence

Judge Bryan Poff told Jerry LaGrone Wednesday he must serve less than a month behind bars in the Randall County jail before he can participate in a work-release program under the local sheriff.

LaGrone, convicted in July 1975 of driving while intoxicated, was returned last week to the Randall County jail on an order issued by Poff. He had been in the Potter County Stockade.

Poff had LaGrone brought before him about 1:15 p.m. Wednesday along with LaGrone's Amarillo attorney Jim Durham to explain the order issued last week.

He told LaGrone he could work on a release program after June 23 or July 8, — the date was not known for certain Wednesday — and could establish an alcoholic counselling program in the Randall County courthouse.

He indicated he did not want LaGrone returned to the Potter County correctional facility.

During the course of the Wednesday afternoon session, Durham indicated interest in having a formal hearing on LaGrone's return to Randall County, but after visiting with the judge at the bench, Durham had not formally entered such a request. He left the courtroom saying he would work with Dist. Atty. Randall Sherrod if such a hearing were desired.

Poff told LaGrone he was returned to the local jail from the Potter County institution because he had been seen several times at an Amarillo grocery store, at the post office and other locations.

LaGrone was also making $600 per month from Potter County as a counselor.

Poff ordered his return, he said, because LaGrone's incarceration in Potter County did not comply with a court sentence issued last July which stipulated LaGrone would serve 12 months behind bars and 12 months on work-release.

Following the hearing, LaGrone met briefly with members of his family and friends in the courtroom.

City students neutral in attitudes toward police, survey shows

By LAURIE TELFAIR

A recent study of the attitude of Canyon adolescents toward law enforcement officers turned up some surprising results.

In the survey, made by WTSU graduate students in psychology, Chuck and Penny Holley and Norman Monk, 50 junior high and 63 high school seniors were questioned.

The researchers expected to find a negative attitude toward law enforcement.

"It is oft rumored that adolescents have hostile and negative attitudes toward authority figures," they wrote.

Instead, they found that, at worst, Canyon students have neutral feelings for the city police. They were even more favorable toward the county sheriff's officers and probation officers.

In the survey, students were asked to rate city policemen, sheriff's deputies and probation officers on a scale of from one to five for 20 pairs of descriptive adjectives.

The word pairs included such things as unfair-fair, bothersome-helpful and arrogant-unassuming. A one would be the most disapproving rating and a five the most approving.

City policemen fared the worst in the survey, particularly among high school males, where they got the lowest average response. On a scale of 20 to 100, the researchers found the negative range for averages of 20 to 50; a neutral range of 51 to 69 and a positive range of 70 to 100. High school males rated the Canyon police department at 58.4.

In contrast, junior high males rated Canyon police at 67.2, or nine points higher.

This shift in attitude posed two questions: what happened during those three years to change opinion and why did it happen? The answer, according to the researcher, was tied to "the love affair the American male adolescent has with the automobile and its relationship to his macho image. This produces a situation for negative encounters. The associated traffic code enforcements by police provide the framework for stimuli. This produces a situation for negative encounters."

There was little difference in the opinions of high school girls, whose average was 64.59 and junior high girls, whose average response was 61.8.

Sheriff's deputies were thought of more favorably. High school males rated deputies at 68.3, a high neutral, and high school girls gave them a 70.4 rating, or slightly favorable. Junior high boys rated deputies at 71.2, or favorable and junior high girls rated them at 69.4.

Probation officers got a rating of 62.9 from high school males; 65.2 from high school girls; 66 from junior high males and 64.3 from junior high females.

The researchers attribute the higher ratings for deputies and probation officers to both the lack of conflict over vehicle laws and to presumably higher standards for deputies and probation officers than for city policemen.

City police got the lowest marks on such characteristics as unfair, rude, antagonistic, strict, unfeeling, arrogant and prejudiced. Likewise, they were best rated for courage, importance, neatness, and being modern.

Sheriff's deputies drew a lazy rating from high school males but most of the adjectives were favorable. Probation officers were judged by some as prejudiced, antagonistic and dishonest.

The researchers explained their findings. "This viewpoint presupposes that an agency created for a necessary and use (See SURVEY, Page 5)

City must supervise ambulance

The City of Canyon should have responsibility for supervising the operations of Metropolitan Ambulance Service in Canyon, attorney for the South Randall County Hospital District board said Monday night.

Reggie Reeves said a contract proposed for signature with the new ambulance service should call for supervision of the service by the city similar to the clause included in a contract with the now-defunct Canyon Ambulance Service.

Reeves said a contract should be prepared for signature by the board at their next regular meeting in June.

In other business Monday night, the board reviewed finances and routine business reports.

Joel McKinney, center, received his Eagle Scout award Monday night during a Troop 31 court of honor at Rex Reeves School. McKinney is son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McKinney, left, and was presented the award by Dr. W.J. Wooten, right.

Graduation for 210 in fieldhouse

Approximately 210 graduating Canyon High seniors will march down the aisle at commencement ceremonies tomorrow night.

Graduation exercises will begin at 8 p.m. in the Buffalo Field House.

School board members Mrs. Jean Irwin and Dr. Dudley Moore will present the diplomas.

The processional and recessional will be played by Mrs. J.W. King and the invocation and benediction will be given by William Johnson.

Valedictorian Sheryl Dees, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Myron Dees, and salutatorian Marcella Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson, will address their graduating class.

A wind ensemble composed of John King, Eric Rathjen and Roma Johnson will play.

Seniors attended the baccalaureate service last Sunday in the high school auditorium. Dr. Newton J. Robison, pastor of Lake Tanglewood Community Church, presided over the service. The Rev. James Hancock gave the invocation.

The school year will end Friday also for the remainder of the Canyon students. For high school and junior high students, regular classes ended Wednesday and final exams were scheduled for today and tomorrow. Classes will be dismissed at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Report cards will be mailed as soon as final grades are computed.

Rites set for holiday

A Memorial Day service will be held at Dreamland Cemetery Monday at 11 a.m.

The Rev. Baldwin Stribling, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will conduct the rites. Color guard and flag ceremonies will be performed by Boy Scout Troop 132 under the leadership of Jeff Edmond. "Taps" will be performed by Bryan Young.

A Gold Star Mothers breakfast, open to the public, will be hosted by VFW Post 5681 at the Post House. Members will serve breakfast from 7-10 a.m.

VFW members will also decorate the graves with American flags.

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce is recommending that businesses observe the holiday and the majority of businesses will probably be closed, Chamber manager Roland Black said.

Federal, state and local government offices will be closed, as will the post office.

In contrast, registration for the first summer session will be held Monday at WTSU.

Ratio raise draws crowd

About 50 Canyon School District property owners, many of them confused over recent school board action hiking the ratio of assessment, showed up Monday for a board of equalization meeting.

Tax Collector Conway Kuykendall said most of those who turned out for the board meeting were seeking an explanation of the hike in ratio from 40 per cent to 80 per cent.

Last year only six persons showed up for the board session.

The board will meet again on June 1 to hear property tax problems of residents of the City of Canyon, which has also hiked its ratio from the 40 per cent to the 80 per cent level.

Gary Houlette receives the Eagle Scouting Award in Troop 31 honor ceremonies. He is the son of Mrs. Darrell Kunkel and Wayne Houlette.

Dr. Grillo off to Iran as computer teacher

Not unlike the past four years, Dr. John Grillo will teach people about computer beginning in June, but location of the instruction will be different.

Dr. Grillo, assistant professor of Computer Information Systems at West Texas State University, has signed a two-year contract with International Training Consultants of Iran. The company, headquartered in Burbank, Calif., has a contract with the Iranian government to provide computer education to teachers.

Beginning June 16, Dr. Grillo will teach the basics of computer operation to 60 university and technical school teachers in Tehran, the capital and largest city in Iran with a population of three million.

He will leave the US on May 27 and tour France and Greece.

He will also establish additional computer courses and coordinate the installation of American computer systems.

Computer language will be taught in English, the second language of Iran, Dr. Grillo explained.

"We're going over there with the attitude of staying forever, but we'll probably come back eventually to the US. I won't, however, come back to WTSU," he said.

The opportunity to travel was the main reason for Dr. Grillo's decision to accept the job.

"I want to go so that my kids can learn to appreciate the US and other people more. I was raised in France so I know what it's like to live in other countries, but I want my kids to know," Dr. Grillo said.

He said that Iran recently celebrated 2,500 years. He also dispelled the myth that the country receives all revenue from the sale of oil and oil products.

"Approximately 22 percent of the gross national product of Iran is due to agricultural products compared to 18 percent for oil and more carpets are exported than oil," he explained.

"The consultant company I'll be working for is a small company but they're thinking about negotiating contracts for computer education in Saudi Arabia, Nigeria and Indochina," Dr. Grillo said.

Four injured as car rams pillar

Four persons were injured Friday in a collision near the junction of U.S. 87 and U.S. 60.

Bobby Lee Love of Amarillo, the driver of one of the vehicles, was taken to Palo Duro Hospital and was later transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital.

Three passengers in his car were also taken to Palo Duro Hospital. Treated were James Stephens Stricley, Mike Small-ridge and Don Miller.

The accident occurred about 11:30 p.m. According to police, an auto driven by Johnny Glen Harris, also of Amarillo, pulled into the right lane going north and Love swerved to avoid a collision. He lost control of his car and struck a concrete pillar on the overpass.

Two persons were injured

Saturday in a collision at Third Avenue and 12th Street.

According to police, a car driven by Merl Cecil Lindsey of Canyon was struck at the intersection by a vehicle driven by Tibbie Garcia Aragon, also of Canyon.

Two passengers in the Aragon car, Faye Moon and Janice Elaine Kiser, were taken to Palo Duro Hospital.

The burglary of a travel trailer was reported Sunday. Police reported that a camper belonging to John Prater of Canyon was entered and goods valued at $950 were taken. Missing items included a TV, two guns, a suitcase, camera, clothes, watch and jewelry. The travel trailer door had been forced open, according to the report.

An attempted burglary was reported Sunday by John E. Shaw Jr. of Canyon. When he returned to his home, Shaw told police, someone had tried to force open his back door which was sealed.

Another burglary was reported Friday. Ruth Ann Pickard and Gory Dean Lovelace told police that while they were moving to another apartment, someone forced open the back door of their old apartment and stole a stereo, a clock radio and some beer.

Edward Joseph Collier of Canyon pleaded not guilty before Judge Woody Pond to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Eddy Dane McBrayer of Amarillo was charged Friday with making alcohol available to a minor. Quentin Mark Ely, 17, of Canyon was charged with being a minor in possession of alcohol.

A SENIOR DINNER for fellow graduates of Canyon High School was held last Friday evening at the Lake Tanglewood home of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. McBrayer by their son, Eddy.

The dinner, which featured rib-eye steak, was served to fellow students Brad Boswell, Webb Brown, Delk Watson, Danny Dorsey, Joe Mike Carter, Kenny Seitz and Quentin Ely.

ITS THE SEASON to "hire-a-kid" from the Serendipiteens as they are seeking funds for a summer trip to Six Flags Over Texas. The students are available to do all types of odd jobs around the house and may be reached through advisors: Susan Wilson or Bonita Oliver.

GIRLSTOWN U.S.A. WILL benefit from a calf-steer roping being sponsored this week end at Happy by Tuffy Thompson, national roping champion. The arena is located a mile south of Happy then east on the new farm-to-market road for five miles. Roping events are slated for Saturday and Sunday there.

TODAY IS TRYOUT day for girls who'd like to play summer softball in the Kiwanis sponsored league which includes four Canyon and one Happy girls' team. The tryouts will begin at 4:30 on the girls' ball diamond in Southeast Park. The summer season will wind up with the All-Star game set for July 4.

DEADLINE FOR ENTERING the "clean up-paint up-fix up" contest being sponsored by city merchants through the Canyon Chamber of Commerce is Monday. The winners will be determined in mid-June with cash awards to be presented — so get your entry made in one area of the contest by Monday. Contact the chamber office for entry blanks and details on the contest or send your entry blank to the Women's Division, Canyon Chamber of Commerce, Box 8, Canyon, Texas 79015.

SATURDAY IS "SPLASH DAY" at the Conner Park swimming pool — and you can bet it'll be filled with loads of city youngsters ready for that first swim of the summer season.

The pool will be open from 1:30 until 7 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays with Sunday pool hours from 2-6 p.m. and single admissions costing 50 cents. Season passes for individuals and families are available also!

AS CITY CLUBS conclude their current year's programs, the new presidents and incoming historian-reporters are reminded that the news will need a copy of each group's yearbooks for the coming year at the close of the summer.

With some 45-50 women's club groups meeting weekly, monthly, etc., it's mandatory that we have a yearbook in order to keep up with what's going on — wouldn't it be a bad idea to have a yearbook or monthly newsletter come in from the men's clubs, too.

CHS students are invited to seminar

Nineteen Canyon High students have been invited to attend the week-long Youth Citizenship Seminar to be held at WTSU.

The seminar, sponsored by the American Citizenship Center at Oklahoma Christian College, will examine the economic, political and cultural principles which have contributed to the rise of western hemisphere civilization.

CHS students invited include Craig Howard, Royal Brantley, LaMoine Davis, Raymond Roberts, Jonathan Hull, Dinah Winn, Jill Burton, Sharon Lindemann, Darlenea Hanes, Karl Hickman, Valerie Freeman, Gayla Bechtol, Cheri Glenn, Nicki Knowles, Steve Faureau, Tab Kenner, Monte Harrison, Steve Zanchettin and Drew Hetzler.

The two-day school will be at

Regents ok positions

The West Texas State University Board of Regents have approved the appointment of Dr. Ray Henders and Dr. Bill Clymer as adjunct professors for the Department of Animal Science.

Dr. Henders, a widely-recognized nutritionist with Producers Grain Corporation, and Dr. Clymer, president of Pests Consultants, Inc. will work with the Department of Animal Science and the School of Agriculture in research planning and development.

They both have previously acquired and sponsored research trials with the University, and Dr. Henders has taught a graduate nutrition course for the department.

"The appointment of these two agriculturists will strengthen and extend our research and teaching programs at West Texas State University," says Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of the School of Agriculture. "As the regional institution located in a most dynamic agricultural area, it is our desire to continue to improve the teaching and research programs of WTSU."

Dr. Henders holds a bachelor of science from West Texas State, a master of science from Colorado State University, and a doctorate in nutrition from the University of Nebraska. He has served previously as extension animal scientist for the University of Missouri. Dr. Henders is a member of the American Society of Animal Science and past president of the Plains Nutrition Council.

Dr. Clymer holds a bachelor of science, master of science, and doctorate from Oklahoma State University in entomology, and has served for six years as area entomologist for the Texas Extension Service. He is presently president of Pest Consultants, Inc., and works in animals, as well as plant entomological research and service.

Tractor safety class is planned

A tractor safety school for Randall and Potter County youth who are 14 and 15 years old will be held June 2 and 3.

The two-day school will be at the Texas Tractor and Equipment Company at 7530 South Washington.

John Brazzil and Gaines Franks, extension agents of Randall and Potter counties, will conduct the school. Youth who complete the coursework, pass the written examination and demonstrate their skill in tractor operation will be issued exemption certificates which will allow them to operate some types of farm equipment for hire for farmers who need tractor operators.

The school will start at 1 p.m. June 2. There will be no charge for the course.

The course will be open to any youth regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin.

Participants must attend all sessions. The course will not be repeated this year.

Those interested in the safety course should report to the Texas Tractor and Equipment Company by 1 p.m. each day and plan to stay until 5 p.m. No pre-registration is required.

There are many reasons why I belong to the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). One of the basic reasons is because it teaches that all Christians should be "One in Spirit." In Ephesians, Chap. 4, we are admonished to be eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the Bond of Peace.

Verses 4-7, "There is one body and one Spirit — One Lord, one faith, one Baptism, one God and Father of us all, Who is above all and through all and in all. But grace was given to each of us, according to the measure of Christ's gift." Thanks be to God.

allotment farms in the county, but that on some farms only a portion of a total wheat crop will be surveyed.

Maynard said the survey efforts are beginning to wind down now in the county since many farmers have decided to harvest what wheat they have remaining.

But, he anticipates further surveys will be requested once the wheat harvest is ended.

Only irrigated wheat farmers are expected to make a crop in the county this year, one of prolonged drought albeit mild temperatures.

County Agent John Brazzil said only scattered fields of dryland wheat will be harvested during June due to the drought.

About 40,000 acres in the county are used for irrigated wheat production.

Already in some portions of the county, corn for feed has been planted and is coming up. Some farmers are now in the early stages of planting their summer grain sorghum crops.

Brazzil said it is unlikely national seed companies will be able to meet demand for greenbug-resistant sorghum varieties this summer. This is the first year greenbug-resistance has been available in sorghum.

The county agent said moisture made available through light rains in April had not provided adequate subsurface water for dryland sorghum planting and that more moisture must come within the next three to four weeks.

Because of the substantial loss of a winter wheat crop this year, he said, it is likely a large number of acres will be available for planting in summer crops this spring.

ful social function that is professionally and efficiently operated will produce a positive community opinion.

In the same manner, a neutral score (51-69) would be indicative of a department that is doing neither a good job nor a bad job. It just exists and goes through the motions.

A negative community opinion would indicate a poorly operating department, they said.

On the whole, the attitudes of Canyon youth toward the city police department and probation officers is less than favorable. The attitude, on the whole, toward the sheriff's department is favorable.

GOOD ADVICE — There was no grass around to be walked on, but city officials didn't want their mud walked on either. Now, tiny shoots of grass are beginning to show above the mud, so they can soon put up a sign ordering, "Keep off the grass."

think that's fair?" "And, now," he said, "you want to raise that even further. The very thing you've advocated here is the same thing we've heard for six or seven meetings. What do you render. Don't you render your stocks and bonds and cash? Why don't you render it? It's up to you to render it. I just want to bring out the fact that you've overlooked the facts that affect you but you've hit the facts that hit me and the farmer in Farmer County and Deaf Smith County."

"I think you're completely out of bounds on it." His last comment brought applause from a crowd of about 300 persons, many of them farmers. Ms. Daniels was given some support as she took her seat by Rep. Wilhelmina Delco of Austin who pointed out that virtually no one in the state renders bank accounts and stocks and bonds for taxation.

Canyon Supt. of Schools Jerry Jacobs also testified before the committee, advocating establishment of a sales tax, the possibility of a tax on petroleum products leaving the state, and luxury tax.

Jacobs in response to questions from the panel, said he would be willing to see a limit placed on the amount of funds which local districts can raise to supplement state funding of education programs.

But, he said, the state should pick up the funding tax on 90 percent or more of educational costs.

Others appearing before the panel also advocated sales tax levies, severance taxes, luxury taxes and other additional taxes.

The hearing panel was headed by Rep. Tom Massey of San Angelo.

commissioners tabled action on five bid proposals by outside firms for a full re-evaluation of rural and urban property.

Bids ranged from about $219,000 to about $300,000 for the one-year reappraisal program.

Southwestern Appraisal Co. of Austin bid $263,000 for the job. J. W. McMorris of Hereford bid $219,400. Ralph Baxter and Associates of Amarillo bid $219,000 and Professional Appraisers Co. of Fort Worth bid $236,000. Troy Sloan of Spearman bid $26,000 just to perform rural land reappraisal.

A decision will be made by commissioners on June 14 as to whether they should hire an outside firm at a price quoted or whether they should hire men to work under Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, for the re-evaluation.

Commissioners did not discuss their proposed 1976-77 budget.

They approved the expenditure of about $500 for equipment for the county extension agent's office for livestock projects in the county's 4-H program.

They also approved the payment of about $8000 to have a telephone line moved under the right-of-way on Santa Fe property to facilitate the construction of an underpass for the Hunley Road extension west to Washington Street.

PAYOFF — The Canyon batter raps out a double in the sixth inning to start an Eagle rally.

3 Music workshops offered at WTSU

Three music workshops designed for teachers of piano, church music and choir will be available at West Texas State University the first summer term.

Opening the list is the Piano Workshop, which will be offered

Keith Laycock, son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Laycock of 704 Taylor Lane in Canyon, was elected to the Student Senate in recent elections at the University of Texas at Austin. Laycock will serve as Senator, Place 2, from the College of Natural Science. The College has four positions in the thirty-eight member Student Senate. The 1975 graduate of Canyon High School is a freshman pre-med major and was recently initiated into Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. He was named the best pledge for the spring term.

from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. June 7-11. The guest clinician will be Mrs. Virginia Elliott of El Paso, who has taught piano for more than 20 years. Mrs. Elliott has had a varied musical experience, including dance band work, arranging, accompanying, solo and ensemble work. She has developed ways of working with students of all levels with the aim of stimulating creativity in improvisation and composition.

On June 14-18, Dr. Austin Lovelace of Dallas will conduct a Church Music Workshop from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Dr. Lovelace, who is presently minister of music at Lovers Lane United Methodist Church in Dallas, will examine the wide spectrum of sacred music through lectures, demonstration, score reading and dialogue.

A Choral Conductors Workshop under the direction of Dr. Eph Ehly, chairman of the Choral Studies at the University of Missouri-Kansas City Conservatory of Music, will be June 21-25 from 11:20 a.m. to 2:20 p.m. Dr. Ehly, who is recognized as one of the outstanding conductor-clinicians in the country, will demonstrate choral development through choral literature.

Registration for these and other WTSU classes may be completed from May 31 and June 4 through the WTSU registrar's office. Persons registering for only a music workshop may register on the first class day. Contact the WTSU Department of Music for more information.

Eagles down Pecos, 3-1 in first bi-district game

Canyon's Terry Mick allowed only three men on base Tuesday as Canyon stopped Pecos 3-1 in the first game of bi-district Class AAA play.

Pecos's lone run came in the top of the sixth when Charles Michaelis hit a homerun over the right field fence.

Mick gave up one other hit and the third Pecos batter reached first on a bobbled ball.

Canyon grabbed an early lead when Matt Madewell, first up in the bottom of the first, rapped a single from Pecos pitcher Linell Mosby. Madewell advanced on a passed ball and came home on a single by Jay Huey.

In the fifth, Huey got on with a walk and stole second. He scored on Joe Luquette's single.

The final run came in the sixth. Ron Hickman blasted the only double of the day and Randy Langen got on base after he was struck on the hand by an inside pitch. A single by Ken Cooper sent Hickman home.

Earlier in the game, Langen had tried to beat an infield grounder with a headlong dive for first base.

"We played about as well defensively as we can," said baseball coach Mike Auld.

In the fourth inning a Pecos bid was squelched when Copper at third made a desperate dive to catch an infield pop-up.

Mick struck out six and gave up two hits and zero walks. For Pecos, Mosby struck out 10, walked three and hit one. He gave up six hits.

Canyon will travel to Pecos Saturday for the second game of the best two out of three series. Game time is 2 p.m. If a second game is needed, Canyon and Pecos will play a doubleheader.

Hoss Ratliff connects with a fast ball.

Tornado detection research underway at WTSU

Tornado detection research underway at West Texas State University needs the help of the Panhandle's citizens in reporting funnel formations in the region.

George Hale, WTSU physics instructor, is monitoring storm noise emissions in hopes of identifying characteristics that would lead to early detection of tornadoes.

"During the coming season we will process the storm emission data to find correlations between the formation of tornado funnels and the changes in the kinds of storm noise we receive and record on our equipment," Hale says. "If a tornado funnel forms but is not reported, this would lead to errors in our conclusions."

A National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration weather teletype will be placed in the Science Center for WTSU students to watch so they may alert Hale to storms within a 125-mile radius of Canyon.

"Keeping informed of storms within the region of study, but not obviously in sight from Canyon, will be one of our bigger problems," Hale says.

The researcher will also receive National Weather Service data for this storm season, but with a delay of up to three months.

The WT instructor and his assistants, Jamie Martin of Canyon and Darryl Maddox of Borger, need information on the exact time the funnel forms, its duration, location, direction, appearance, amount of damage and whether any lightning or hail is associated with it. A written report should be mailed within a day of the funnel sighting.

"This is particularly important with regard to storms that occur in rural areas where there are likely to be few observers," Hale says.

"The public might have the mistaken impression that all tornadoes are identified by weather radar," he continues. "However, Bill Frank, meteorologist in charge at the National Weather Service Office in Amarillo, has informed me that only about 15 percent of tornadoes are reported on radar by a characteristic 'hook echo'."

Hale will be looking in very low, high and very high frequency ranges for some kind of "fingerprint" or characteristic radiation of a tornado. His station is directly beneath the roof of the WTSU Science Center, and only a short distance from the equipment's antennae.

"One piece of equipment, called a 'tornado detector,' identifies about 75 percent of the tornadoes in its range but also has a false alarm rate of 75 percent, Hale notes.

It monitors high frequencies, and counts electrical pulses of certain strength and duration. If the detector counts more than 20 impulses a minute, a yellow light flashes, indicating a tornado is near.

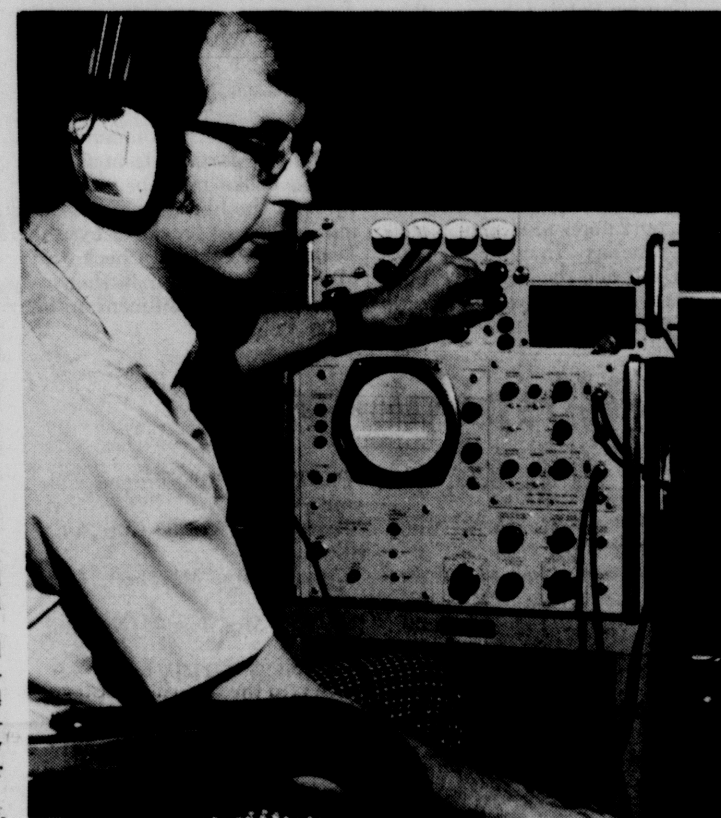

Hale is still working on a design for a very low frequency monitor. With it, he hopes to gather data on the observation that in very low frequencies the storm noise will go quiet when a tornado forms.

"The practical goal of this study is to acquire data and knowledge that will lead to a more reliable detection and warning system for tornadoes," Hale says. "I want to emphasize that an understanding of what causes a storm or of what is happening during the storm is not synonymous with an intention to try to modify weather systems to prevent tornadoes.

"Tornadoes may have beneficial aspects that are not apparent when we think only in terms of loss of property or loss of life. We do not understand the interplay among the intricate mechanisms at work in our atmosphere sufficiently well at the present time to know with any certainty what the outcome of such a 'modification dream' would be."

Information about tornado sightings should be sent to George Hale, WTSU Department of Physics, Box 248, WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016.

Reading lectures featuring noted educational authority

The first annual Ruth Lowes Reading Lectures are to be held on Wednesday, June 2, at the Activities Center of West Texas State University.
 Dr. Ruth Lowes retired in the early 1970's after serving 50 years with West Texas State University in the education field. She came here as a kindergarten teacher in the early 1920's and later became head of the university education department serving as professor of education prior to her retirement.

The first annual Reading Lectures is being sponsored by the Panhandle Council of the International Reading Association and is designed to honor Dr. Lowes for past service as well as to provide noted speakers in the reading field at the university.

Featured speaker will be Jeanne McCarthy, professor of education at the University of Arizona. She is a reading consultant for 44 state departments of education and has testified before the US Congressional Committee for federal funding to improve reading. She is an international authority on learning disabilities and has written many professional articles from experience.

 A frequent lecturer at WTSU, Jeanne McCarthy gave her first major speech at the university in 1966. She was previously associated with the Hoffman Estates in Illinois and University of Chicago.

Her lecture topics will be "Children Who Cannot Read: Medusa or Hydrahead" from 8:30 a.m. until 10 a.m. on June 2 and "From Spoken Word to Written Word" beginning at 10:15 a.m.

The McCarthy speeches will be followed with a luncheon at which Dr. Claud Zevely, associate professor of elementary education at WTSU, will speak on the topic "Write Me A Tranquillizer".

The Reading Lecture will be a one-day session with $2.50 cost for the lectures and $1.50 additional charge for the luncheon. Advance reservations may be made with Nancy Moreland of the PESO Educational Services Association, 374-5701, or at June 2 registration, previous to the 8:30 lecture.

Soil monoliths project of Dr. Jimmie L. Green

Soil monoliths are the project concerning Dr. Jimmie L. Green, West Texas State University professor and head of plant science.

Dr. Green received $400 from the WTSU Faculty Venture Fund to prepare soil monoliths of the major soil series on the Texas High Plains.

Monoliths are prepared by taking a core of soil, usually from four feet down, putting the soil in a frame, and treating the specimen with chemicals to prevent sloughing. The end result will be a profile of the horizon of the soil, according to Dr. Green.

"This process is employed to get a view of the soil as it occurs in the earth," Dr. Green said. "We see the color of the soil, clay content and the structure of the soil."

Students will work with Dr. Green in collecting the soil specimens for projects and to learn the procedure. Dr. Fred Pringle, Soil Conservation Service, will also work with Dr. Green.

The soil monoliths will be utilized in crop production laboratories and soil science laboratories to study soil development. The profiles will be displayed to illustrate the different types of soil in the High Plains to visitors, Dr. Green said.

"Hello?" "Hi Marge, this is Suzie." "Suzie, Suzie! What a pleasant surprise!" "How are ya?" "I'm doing just fine. How are things with you?" "Oh, things are terrific around here since you left." "I'll bet. You know I miss you guys." "How do you like your new house?" "Oh, Suzie, it's terrific." "Did you get what you wanted?" "That and more." "Well?" "Well what?" "Tell me about your stupid new house." "Suzie, it's fabulous." "Did you get the big back yard you wanted?" "Three acres with a pond." "Do you have a garden?" "We have a greenhouse!" "Do you have a nice kitchen?" "A huge kitchen with all new appliances!" "Do you have some aspirin?" "Aspirin?" "Yeah, you're making me sick." "You should complain. You're not exactly living in a dump." "How does Fred like his new job?" "Suzie, he's a new man." "He likes it?" "He loves it. Absolutely loves it." "That's good." "How is Jack?" "Fine. He's going through a do-it-yourself phase right now." "Oh, good." "Everytime I ask him to do something, he yells 'Do it yourself!'" "Oh, not good." "When are you coming to visit us?" "When are you going to invite us?" "You know you have a standing invitation." "Yeah, but we'd rather sit." "I'm serious. When are you coming?" "Name a date." "How about in a few weeks... say the week of the 29th?" "Wait a minute, let me get my calendar... the 29th?" "That's a Saturday." "Yeah. Sounds good." "Okay, it's a deal. We'll be expecting you." "What do you want us to bring?" "Just your sense of humor." "No." "No?" "Just joking." "Funny." "You missed a great party at the Smiths' last night." "They had a party? They never have parties." "They've been waiting for you to move away." "What happened?" "Well, for starters, Jackie's dog ate the main course before any of the guests arrived." "You're kidding." "No. Then the air conditioning went on the blink." "No wonder they never had any parties. What did everyone do?" "We starved and perspired a lot." "Sounds awful!" "Speaking of starving, how's the old diet?" "I'll tell you if you tell me." "125." "Oh, Susan! You've been cheating!" "No I haven't." "Well how can you lose weight if you've been eating so much?" "I'm not kidding..." "Neither am I." "...I'm saving about 15 dollars a week over what I used to pay." "You're kidding!" "I'm not kidding." "Sounds like you got a raise, too." "Right. 15 dollars to blow on anything I like... toilet paper, floor wax and soap." "Don't forget laundry detergent." "Right." "Hey, you took something of mine when you left." "Your yellow sweater?" "Did you take my sweater?" "Sorry, I wasn't going to tell you." "That's okay. You keep my sweater and I'll keep your skirt." "Skirt?" "You know, the one with all the animals on it?" "Oh, yeah. I'd forgotten about that." "Is it a deal?" "We'll trade when you come to visit." "Sour puss. I'm sorry I even brought the subject up." "What were you going to say?" "I was going to say that you took my Suzie Fu Yung recipe." "Did I?" "Yes." "I'll give you that too when you come." "Good." "See? Just think of all the nice things awaiting you when you come." "I can't wait. Hey, I have something for you." "What?" "A riddle." "Shoot." "What has four holder-uppers, four puller-downers, a pair of lookers, and a swishy-wishy?" "I don't know, what?" "I'll tell you when we come to visit." "Oh, no you don't!" "Bye." "Come on, tell me!" "Bye." "Suzie!"

For aged Foster homes hunted

A new social services program, this one to provide foster homes for the aged, blind or disabled adults unable to live in their own homes or in nursing homes, is now headquartered in the Randall County courthouse in Canyon.

David Melber is adult social services worker staffing the office in an effort to find foster homes for possible participants. The program is offered by the Texas Department of Public Welfare.

"We are seeking warm-hearted people who have room in their homes for one to three aged or disabled people who are not related to them," David Brown, adult social services supervisor from Amarillo, said. "The foster family must be willing to help provide opportunities for social, recreational and religious activities as appropriate. They would not need to provide health related services."

Brown said Melber will interview prospective foster care providers and check to see that the home meets state health and safety standards. He will also give consultations to approved providers.

"We would help the persons seeking foster care and those wishing to give it to get acquainted before further arrangements are made," Brown said. "This is, really, a family-sharing program where all concerned need to be congenial. We expect it to enrich the lives of all concerned."

Cost of the foster care is shared by each receiver and the state. Together a total of $220 is paid the provider per person per month.

Melber can be reached at 655-3071.

School's out for summer

By DORIS McKEE
JUST ONE MORE day and school's out for summer vacation. Most of the kids seem anxious to be free agents and most of us moms are bracing ourselves for that period of time when they just don't have anything to do.

Oh well, guess we'll all make it through the three months of vacation, a day at a time and be looking forward to the time for the new school term to start.

BOY OH BOY, was the swimming pool busy this past weekend. Seems everyone out here had the same idea at the same time Sunday afternoon. Everyone seemed to be really enjoying a place to cool off.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT, May 21, Christy Hoffman participated in a dance recital held at Stephen F. Austin Jr. High. Christy has been taking Tap for a year and was in a couple of dance routines.

ALBERT AND KATIE Rinne are sporting a new car around. Know they are going to enjoy it.

Recently Albert's folks, Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Rinne of Wilson, Tex., visited here.

MONDAY NIGHT WAS a big night for all the kids here in Siesta that attend Gene Howe. It was their night at Wonderland Park. All the kids really did have a great time.

TALKED TO EUNICE Rinehart and learned that Bernie's sister, Vera Tate and a friend, Beth Myers, both of Hobbs, N.M., were here for a visit recently.

The Saturday they were here, Eunice and Bernie had a dinner to celebrate their daughter, Charlotte's, and grandson, Mark's, birthdays. Everyone had a very good and enjoyable day.

ON MONDAY, MAY 17, Katie Rinne had a Sarah Coventry Show. Everyone had a good time and enjoyed the evening.

TALKED TO MARY Heckman last week. Seems her's and Melvin's daughter was to undergo some surgery. We wish her a speedy recovery.

JERI AND KEN Weber took daughter, Jena, to Tucson recently to spend some time with Jeri's sister, Cathy, who was seeing her for the first time.

Cathy and hubby, Bruce, will be living in England for the next three years and Jeri wanted to spend a couple of weeks with Cathy before she left.

Jeri and Cathy are the daughters of Jo and Tom Fulkerson.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT, MAY 19, Judy Johnson had a Sarah Coventry Show in her home. Everyone had a nice time.

WANDA, THOMAS, CARL, Janet, Connie and Michael Coffelt, are having a very big week this week. Seems son, Carl, is among the graduating class at Canyon High.

Visiting with the Coffelt family this week will be Edna Coffelt of Snyder, Okla., Ruby Rogers of Davis, Okla., and Doris and Bill Hamby of Petrolia, Tex. Wanda is having a family dinner on Friday before the graduation exercises.

Others attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Eder of Amarillo, Norman Lake of Canyon and Jane Batenhorst of Umbarger.

Saturday, Wanda said they plan to join Annie and Ike Cole and family of Lamar, Colo., and Earl and Linda Eder of Amarillo, at Lake Meredith for an outing.

DO WANT TO mention again that we have some girls out there that want to babysit. So if you need one call: Davia Rinne at 355-1374, Janet or Connie Coffelt at 355-3576 or Teri Mayfield at 355-5313.

TUESDAY NIGHT THE parents who have sixth graders attended the last band and choir concert at Gene Howe.

ALSO LEARNED THIS week that Ron and JoAnn Pingle have sold their mobile home. They will be moving to Hereford. We want to wish them well.

IT IS TIME for me to put down the ole pen but will be back so keep on Reading.

Thought for this week: "Remember when you knew where you were going. Nowadays you don't even know where you've been most of the time, and even if you did you sure wouldn't want to go back."

See ya.

Graduates honored

By REBA RAEF
THERE'S NOT TOO much going on here this week, what with gardens, field work and irrigating. About the most important happening here is the graduation of our seniors.

Those from Umbarger, who will graduate from Canyon High this year are Roger Batenhorst, Sylvia Nanez, Janet Wilhelm, Ralph Gonzales, Vicki Gerber, Chris Wieck, Shirley Lindemann, Sharon Ramaekers, and Linda Hartman.

Elaine Frische, Sandra Artho and Sandra Klueskens, also from this parish will graduate from Hereford High.

We would like to congratulate all these young people and wish them much luck in their future endeavors.

The seniors wore their caps and gowns last Sunday at Mass and after Mass, their senior rings were blessed.

THE FOURTH DEGREE Assembly of the Knights of Columbus and their wives were feted with the regular quarterly supper last Sunday evening in the Columbus Club Hall.

Preparing and serving the meal were Vincent and Della Friemel, chairmen. Harvey and Ormalene Artho, Sylvester and Elsie Batenhorst and Lewie and Reba Rae. Games of 88, double cup and 99 were enjoyed after supper.

A BELATED "HAPPY BIRTHDAY" to Emma Brandt, whose birthday was May 21. Her brother, Mike Ziner, came from Nebraska to visit her for the birthday.

MRS. PAULINE BECKMAN from Elgin, Ill., spent several days last week, visiting her nephews, Clarence and Charley Beckman and their families. She returned to Elgin on Wednesday.

SANDY CUMINGS won a second place trophy in the white and orange belt Karate competition, held last Saturday at Stephen F. Austin Junior High School in Amarillo.

HAZEL FRIEMEL is visiting her daughter, Kay Jester and family, in Longdale, Okla.

See you next week. — Reba
